ARTEMISIA  Silver King

A one year field plant lifted and potted

ARTEMISIA Silver King

A Plant of Rare Beauty for Landscape or Cut Flowers

THIS Artemisia is one of such rare beauty and so valuable for various purposes that our description will hardly do it full justice.

For landscape effect from early summer until late winter, it is the most outstanding plant we have ever seen. Its bright silver-colored stems and foliage blend harmoniously with other foliage or blooming plants and its rich striking beauty in form and color is first to attract attention regardless of its surroundings.

For beautiful airy foliage to combine with cut flowers, it has no equal, as it does not wilt or shatter off and can be carried dry indefinitely without losing its color. When used with sparkling pink flowers, such as Radiance Roses, the effect is both indescribable and irresistible. The foliage matures early in the summer and quickly hardens to a state when it can be cut and used without moisture.

The illustration on the front cover of this catalog was made from an actual photograph taken July 2, 1926, of a plant in the open ground which has lived through two of our most severe winters without mulch or any protection, proving its absolute hardiness. It thrives in ordinary soil, growing to a height of about three feet in almost perfect symmetrical form. The stems are well branched and thickly covered with bright silver-colored foliage which first appears in the form of small narrow leaves, but these quickly divide into a delicate lacy shape with the appearance of small flower buds all over the branches. Artemisia Silver King is not a variety of our own origination, but one which evidently has been lost in propagation, as we have been unable to find it among the plantings of any growers in the United States; or to locate a grower who has ever seen the same type or color of foliage as produced by this Artemisia.

Our original stock consisted of three small divisions which were secured six years ago from a very old lady who stated the plant had been in the family garden as far back as she could remember, and that to the best of her recollection, it was brought to the United States from Europe by her grandmother.

As Artemisia belongs to the perennial class, producing its entire new growth from the roots each year, we will fill all early orders with fine field grown roots in a dormant condition and orders received in the latter part of the Spring will be filled with plants which have been potted and foliated out.

To Our Flower-Loving Friends:

THE appreciation and love for trees, shrubs and flowers, as a part of one's own individual home has become a universal and dominant factor within the last few years.

Aside from the pleasure and beauty that well-grown and well-arranged plantings afford to the home, there is a decided advantage in a commercial way and this is worthy of important consideration. In fact, a home buyer now considers flowers and shrubs a necessity. They give a look of prosperity and permanency that can be obtained in no other way.

Entrancing little gardens may be developed with the beautiful roses, flowering shrubs, vines, hedge plants and a generous intermingling of the gay, hardy perennials that we offer you in this book.

An experience covering many years has placed us in a position to supply stock, properly grown and dependable, every effort having been made to produce thrifty, robust plants, brimful of vitality, ready to grow and bloom as soon as planted in your garden. We believe that we can give you the best value for your money; based on the Quality, Price, Responsibility and Service that is assured with every order sent to us.

Our first consideration is the success of our patrons in their planting operations and we desire, above everything else, to maintain a high standard in the quality of our stock. Prices quoted in this catalog are as low as is consistent with quality and dependability.

The orders with which you have favored us in the past have been greatly appreciated and we trust that we may continue to enjoy your confidence.

Hugonis

"The Golden Rose of China"

Blooms Three Weeks Earlier Than Most Roses

A UNIQUE species as it is fine for shrub planting, either to mass or as single specimens. It grows gracefully and rapidly, producing numerous arching and drooping sprays which make a most symmetrical bush about six feet in height and the same in diameter when fully matured. Every branch of the previous year's growth is lined on both sides to the very tip with closely set, wide-open flowers of the most gorgeous golden-yellow, from two to three weeks before other roses are blooming. The delicate graceful sprays are fine for indoor decoration as the glowing yellow crepe-like blooms harmonize with any color scheme. They come in huge masses in late April and May, and after blooming, the pale-green foliage on its curious redd-brown twigs, turns to soft purple. All new growth springs from the roots and is beautiful reddish maroon; it provides the new canes for the next season's bloom.

Hugonis long remains an object of beauty, as it retains its finely veined and delicately cut miniature leaves until the ground is frozen.

It is entirely hardy, withstanding temperatures far below zero, having been thoroughly tested in all northern localities.

Independence Day

Distinct New Everblooming Roses

HERE are the most beautiful productions in new roses, carefully selected as those nearest to perfection. Nature has bestowed her charms upon them with a lavish hand and you may enjoy a season of perpetual bloom if you plant them in your garden.

INDEPENDENCE DAY—Flaming yellow buds, heavily shaded with copper and brown, which fades to delicate orange-pink when the bloom opens. Flowers are moderately large, semi-double, but very freely produced—the bush is almost always covered with buds and blooms. Strong, compact grower of branching habit. A very distinct variety in coloring, although flowers do not last long on the bush, they keep coming almost continuously.

SOUVENIR DE CLAUDIUS PERNET—Very large, full flowers with long deep petals of the most striking sunflower-yellow, deeper in the center without color blending. Blooms early and late. When it has become established in your garden, its growth is strong and vigorous, with large brilliant glossy green foliage, which is disease-resistant. It is not easy to get started for like all yellow roses, it requires pampering, but is worth your greatest efforts. A beautiful glowing pure rich yellow which does not fade and certainly supplies the long-felt need in the garden.

Forsythia (Golden Bell)

WHETHER planted individually or collectively, the shrub is an important feature in the adornment of any ground. At the edges of the lawn, along walks or drives, or in distant corners, a collection of shrubs may be gathered that will give a succession of bloom from the opening of Spring until frost comes to destroy the flowers.

In the list that follows will be found shrubs for all these purposes. The possibilities of effective combinations are unlimited. These are all strong, field-grown plants that will make well-developed specimens, giving immediate effect and will all bloom profusely this season.

ABELIA GRANDIFLORA (Broadleaved Evergreen)—

Just a few years ago this was thought to be a warm-climate plant only; today there are many fine specimens in northern gardens, and as it becomes known that it is hardy, it will be universally popular. From May till frost the graceful arching branches are covered with clusters of tubular-shaped white flowers daintly tinted pink. The leaves are small, lance shaped and glossy green with metallic sheen at the approach of winter. Useful as a specimen, for hedges, or in groupings for mass plantings around foundations or elsewhere. Ultimate height, 4½ to 5 feet, but if the long tender shoots are pinched back during the growing season, the plant becomes very dense and compact. It may be kept quite dwarf by trimming. 75c each.

ALTHEA BUSH (Rose of Sharon)—Double red, white and pink. Grand, free growing, flowering shrubs. Perfectly hardy. Very desirable as they bloom in August and September. Of easiest culture, fine for hedges or single specimens. 50c each.

AMYGDALUS ROSEA FLORE PLENO (Flowering Almond)—See detailed description page 24. 75c each.

BUTTERFLY BUSH (Summer Lilac)—See detailed description page 24. 50c each.

CORNUS SIBIRICA (Dogwood)—A hardy, vigorous shrub with upright, bright blood-red branches. Flowers are creamy-white in numerous, flat-topped clusters followed with light-blue fruit. 50c each.

CYDONIA JAPONICA (Scarlet Japanese Quince)—One of the most brilliant flowering shrubs, covered with dazzling scarlet flowers very early in the Spring, followed by yellowish-green aromatic fruits about two inches in diameter. Bright green, glossy leaves and spreading compact branches. Very symmetrically-growing shrub, beautiful for specimens and will make an impassable hedge. 50c each.

DEUTZIA LEMOINEI—See detailed description page 5. 75c each.

DEUTZIA ROSEA—Showy, hardy and ornamental. Of easy cultivation and rapid growth, with a wealth of double, rosy-pink, drooping, bell-shaped flowers. 50c each.

FORSYTHIA VIRIDISSIMA (Golden Bell)—Large, graceful variety with a profusion of golden-yellow flowers produced early. Foliage narrow and very dark green. 50c each.

Spirea Anthony Waterer

HYDRANGEA ARBORESCENS

GRANDIFLORA ALBA (Hills of Snow)—Admirably adapted for border planting, either as a specimen or in masses. Growth is very vigorous and hardy, round and compact, usually attaining a height of from four to six feet, but may be trimmed to any desired height. Ornamental bright green leaves, starting to bloom after the passing of early-flowering shrubs, its value is enhanced. Flowers are produced in numerous flat-topped clusters of dazzling pure white. 75c each.

Spirea Van Houttei

Producers of Plants that Grow and Bloom

Cydonia Japonica
(Scarlet Japan Quince)

RED SNOWBERRY—Has a wealth of red berries which remain on the branches all winter. Very hardy and vigorous, with bright-green leaves, often tinted with reddish-purple when young, persisting until early winter. Flowers, light-pink, produced in early summer. 50c each.

SPIREA BILLIARDI (Pink)—Very showy and attractive, and splendid for cut flowers. Blooms bright-pink, produced in long, dense panicles, later in the summer than most Spires flowers. 50c each.

SPIREA THUNBERGI (Snow Garland)—A graceful, slender grower, forming a dense feathery bush three or four feet tall. Has an abundance of narrow, green leaves, which assume brilliant tones of orange and scarlet in the Fall. Flowers are pure white, covering the plant as with a mantle of snow. 50c each.

SPIREA VAN HOUTTE (Bridal Wreath)—Flowers are produced in such profusion in late spring as to completely cover the bush with masses of snow-white bloom. They are borne in large, spray-like clusters which resemble a wreath, hence its name "Bridal Wreath." Universally the most popular of all hardy flowering shrubs and certainly one of the most deserving. 50c each.

WEIGELA ROSEA—A free-flowering shrub, with numerous spreading branches. Flowers, rose colored, large and showy, produced in great profusion. 50c each.

WHITE SNOWBERRY—A popular, hardy shrub of medium size and bushy form. Foliage oval and smooth; soft pink flowers are produced in the summer, followed by large, waxy, white berries in Autumn, persisting into mid-winter. Very ornamental. 50c each.

A LIVING fence, one made of plants, attractive with their green leaves, trained or arched branches, colored foliage or bright berries. A lawn hedge is permanent, only requiring occasional pruning or shearing.

BARBERRY THUNBERGI (Japanese)—A "Blaze of Glory" during the fall months with its abundance of brilliant, scarlet berries and attractive foliage of varied tints, from deep green to bronze and gay crimson. Ideal for grouping, particularly around the base of a porch or veranda. Where a dwarf, hardy hedge is wanted, nothing equals this beautiful Barberry. It succeeds in sun or shade and needs very little pruning to keep it in the best shape. The growth is slender and graceful and the branches are prickly with small thorns which makes it very desirable for a defensive hedge. Absolutely hardy in all localities. Plant 12 to 15 inches apart in any good garden soil.

A BEAUTIFUL, dwarf shrub with erect, slender branches, which are literally covered in early May with exquisite, double pink flowers, delightfully fragrant. This mass of bloom comes before the leaves appear, but the growth is so shapely and foliage so ornamental that it is a very desirable variety. It will thrive in any good garden soil and while it may be massed with other shrubs, the fullest extent of its showy beauty can be realized best when it is set alone and grown as a single specimen.

Fine large field grown plants, 75c each; 3 for $2.00.

Buddleia (Butterfly Bush) Summer Lilac

Buddleia

ONE of the most desirable summer flowering shrubs, blooming uninterruptedly from early June until late frost. The long cylindrical panicles of bloom (from twelve to fifteen inches) contain hundreds of miniature flowers of beautiful, deep purple-lilac color, and have a pleasing fragrance which greatly attracts scores of butterflies, hence its name "Butterfly Bush." It succeeds in any good garden soil, flowering freely the first season planted, and the long, gray-green leaves add greatly to its beauty. Makes a delightful specimen and is very attractive in groups. After the first frost, the tops should be cut off nearly to the ground and a good mulch given the plant. New and sturdy growth is thus assured for the following season. Fine, Strong Plants—Price, 50c each; 3 for $1.00.

Dainty and Fragrant—Showiest and Most Gorgeous Spring Flowering Shrub

A VERY important group, coming as they do into a gorgeous showy mass of exquisite flowers in early Spring, followed by gay and ornamental fruit. The great profusion of the large double fragrant flowers, almost obscuring the branches, give the effect of clothing the shrub in shimmering transparent silk gauze. They present striking effects when planted along a drive or used for a hedge and prove equally valuable as single specimens on the lawn or massed in open or woodland plantings.

They will grow in any soil, but of course, one is rewarded by more remarkable and quicker results if good garden soil and some cultivation is afforded them.

We offer you the two most desirable sorts:—

MALUS NIEDZWETZKYANA is a very early bloomer, best noted for the wonderful red color of flowers, branches, leaves and fruit.

MALUS SCHEIDECKERI is also a very early bloomer, producing huge masses of flowers, bright rose colored (even on very young plants) in an upright bottle-brush formation on the stems, followed with an abundance of ornamental fruit.
